

We have entered into a partnership with Biblical Parenting University to receive parent-training classes at 75% off the normal $99.95 rate. (That means you only pay 25 dollars!) You'll actually have access to four core classes and they will be coming out over the next several months. The first class on Developing Cooperation and Responsibility in Kids is available now.

In this class you'll learn how to use a heart-based approach to teach children cooperation through a five-step instruction routine. Responsibility training is taught through schoolwork, bedroom clean up, chores, money, and handling conflict in a mature way. You'll also learn practical ways to help your children develop convictions to do what's right.

Biblical Parenting University is a division of the National Center for Biblical Parenting. You can watch introductory videos about how things work right on the home page.

Here's how you can access the classes:

STEP #1: Go to www.biblicalparentinguniversity.com and click on the link "Create an Account"

STEP #2: Click on Class Descriptions to register for any of the four core classes. Click on learn more to find out what's in the classes. Be sure to click on the other links to learn more about Biblical Parenting University.

After your registration is approved you'll be sent an email and you'll be able to login to your account and access your class. Use our site ID code as a coupon code to receive 75% off the regular tuition rate of $99.95. So you only pay $25 per class.

You can contact me for our site ID code. Please don't share this with anyone. Please don't post it on facebook or other sites where others could access it. It represents a site license for our church or school.

Teachers in our church are taking free classroom management classes that complement what you're learning in the parent classes.

This partnership is part of our commitment to ongoing training of parents and teachers.

Blessings,

Pastor Greg
